

Note:
 before any new work commences it is a condition of Australian building standards to have completed a termite inspection of the existing structure.